

Community Resources

8/21/2024

Frequently, I am asked about transportation, help with medical appointments, home care after surgery, and other help. Our community has resources, but getting that information when you need it can be challenging. So today, I am starting a blog - not only a blog but also a page on Villages where you can access information when needed.

If you have information to share, please email me at info@villagesofsantafe.org. Once a month, I will send out an update and link to the information. If you have used any of these services, let me know your experience. Let's find the best for us in Santa Fe, so we have choices.

Send me your recommendations – anything – shopping, cars, doctors, vendors, services. Included their name, company name, phone, email, website, and a brief description of what they offer and what was your experience with them. Email me at info@villagesofsantafe.org
